Peterson Will be in 19th District Debates

LUBBOCK -Libertarian 19th Congressional District candidate Richard Peterson will be included in debates set for Oct. 5 and Oct. 12 in Lubbock and Abilene.

The debates, hosted by the chamber of commerce of each city and co-sponsored by the League of Women's Voters and local universities—came after "weeks of wrangling," according to the Avalanche Journal.

Richard hopes the debates will allow him to bring issues to light. His main issues will be his opposition to resumption of the military draft, the need to fix Social Security, and the erosion of constitutional rights and personal freedoms through recent government laws and regulations.

"If, through the debate process, I can convince the other candidates to support appropriate policies, I will feel my campaign has been successful," he said.

In addition to being included in the debates Richard has received front page coverage of his candidacy in the Avalanche Journal and will be appearing on Viewpoints, a local TV show.

To help on Richard Peterson's campaign please contact him at 806-799-6531. Or email cpeterson35@cox.net. LP attendance at the debates is encouraged—contact Richard for tickets.

Incumbent in 18th Ducks Debate W/LP

HOUSTON - A week after agreeing to debate her stance on a proposed new draft bill, Democratic Congresswoman Shelia Jackson Lee's campaign refused to schedule the debate, according to one of her opponents in the November 2 election.

Brent Sullivan, Libertarian nominee for the 18th Congressional District of Texas, challenged Lee to the debate at a Democratic rally held on Saturday, August 21. Lee accepted the challenge in front of about 200 witnesses. Lee had previously called for "a national debate on the draft" on a local television program.

Now, according to Sullivan, the two dates proposed by the Lee campaign—October 5 and October 12—have been withdrawn by Gerald Womack, Lee's campaign manager— and refused to provide any alternate dates for holding the debate. Womack also refused to discuss other details such as location or debate format— and further refused to commit to any discussion of the debate in the future.

"I hope you'll agree that if a Congressperson accepts a challenge to a debate, they have a responsibility to the voters in their district to keep their word," said Sullivan, who still hopes that Lee will honor her pledge and agree to a time and location for the draft debate.

Shelia Jackson Lee was one of fourteen sponsors of House Resolution 163, the Universal National Service Act, authored by New York Democrat Charles Rangel to reinstitute the draft— and make it universal, and not limited to military service.

"It is the obligation of every citizen of the United States, and every other person residing in the United States, who is between the ages of 18 and 26 to perform a period of national service..." begins Section 2 of the proposed Act. If enacted, the Act would require a minimum of two years of service, either in the military or in such civilian tasks as the Federal government may choose. The bill does not provide in any way for payment to those serving, nor does it allow for choice of service for the person to be drafted.

Supporters of HR 163 claimed that the bill was intended to encourage public service and eliminate racial injustice in the military. They claimed that, since a disproportionate number of those serving in the current all-volunteer military were persons of color, conscription was necessary to relieve the burden on minorities.

Opponents of the bill claim that the bill constitutes involuntary servitude— in effect, slavery— and deprives American citizens of liberty unjustly. They also point out that drafted soldiers serving against their will weaken, not strengthen, the military— as was demonstrated during the Vietnam War.

The text of HR 163 may be found at <http://thomas.loc.gov/> . An identical bill was introduced in the Senate as Senate Bill 89.

Around the State: Activist Update

August 9, 2004 LP Activist Clark Simmons of Round Rock died. Clark was in a serious car accident June 21 and was not able to recover from his injuries.

Clark was a longtime activist and candidate in the 2000 and 2002 elections. He also had sought the nomination in 2004 for Congress. Clark is survived by his wife Lillian Martinez-Simmons and a daughter. Condolences may be sent to the family at 2008 Frontier, Round Rock Texas.

James Werner, LP candidate for Congress District 25 held a meet the candidate night August 10.

The Travis County Libertarian Party named Gary Johnson Volunteer of the Month for August. Gary is honored for his "tireless work for many years producing the cable access show Live and Let Live."

Smith County Chair Val Finnell resigned his office August 22. Val has an increasing work schedule and has to care for his elderly parents. Eric Rathbone of Flint may seek appointment as Chair. Eric is new to the LP, but has had experience in the Republican Party both as a party officer and as a candidate.

Thanks to Rose Mercer Libertarian activists have organized at the University of Texas-Arlington. Rose led the group in handing out LP literature and signs at the UT-Arlington Activity Day August 25. Contact Rose at mercer@maclp.com.

Yvonne Kelly reports that she and Drew Parks, Guy McLendon and Jimmie Vaughn and many other libertarians and friends attended Ron Paul's Annual Birthday Party August 28 in Brazoria County.

Yvonne called Ron's speech "Texas Straight talk" covering many topics that "we would otherwise not get the indie story on." Jimmie donated a signed electric guitar to the auction for Ron's campaign.

Congress for Peace announced their endorsement of six Texas Libertarian candidates for Congress: Kevin Anderson in District 4, Stephen Schrader in District 6, Stacey Bourland in District 9, Jeffrey Blunt in District 11, Clyde Garland in District 17, and Christopher Claytor in District 27.

Richard Phillips, LP candidate for Justice of the Peace District 5 in Harris County has been endorsed by the Harris County Gay and Lesbian Political Caucus.

Harris County Chair Jeff Daiell represented the LP at a September 8 debate at the political fair and voter registration drive sponsored by the Art Institute of Texas for their students.

Brent Sullivan, LPCandidate for Congress District 18, was an organizer for Libertarian activists at the 1,000 Soldier Candlelight Memorial for Peace held September 10 in Houston. The vigil attracted between 800 and 1,000 participants and was covered by all four local television networks.

It was "a great place to have very natural conversations about Libertarian principles and Libertarian candidates," Brent reports.

Williamson County Chair Jack McKinney reports that the dates for county meetings will change as a result of increased interest among local activists. See the calendar page for the new time and location or contact Jack at jackmc@lorenz.com.

Kevin Tunstall of Sugar Land has announced his intention to reorganize Fort Bend County. Kevin is seeking appointment as County Chair, but has already set up a post office box for the county party and is working on a website. A planning meeting for all Fort Bend activists and members is in the works—if you are interested contact Kevin at ktunstall@stic.net.

Next month's LSL is a printed version--county parties, candidates, and activists please send submissions now on any activity!

HCLP Endorsement

HOUSTON—August 25, The Houston RevCap campaign fresh off its kick-off reception was pleased to receive the endorsement of the Harris County Libertarian Party today. Jeff Daiell, chairman of the county party, pledged support along with the endorsement.

"The property tax is basically the City charging property-owners rent on their own land, a situation libertarians abhor. We therefore are always supportive of limitations on the property tax. Since the City of Houston has been reckless with its taxation and expenditures, this is especially true today. Therefore the Libertarian Party is happy to support and encourage all Houstonians to support the RevCap in November." Co-Chairman of Let the People Vote Jeff Daily, the PAC that secured signatures to get RevCap on the November ballot said, "We are ecstatic about this endorsement. The Libertarian Party has been a grassroots force in the United States for years, and we know RevCap is closer to being passed with their support" Houstonians will vote on RevCap November 2.

Bumperstickers

TheBumpersticker.com, a Libertarian company, has more than 200 Libertarian themed bumper-stickers—many promoting Michael Badnarik for President. Richard Campagna reports the company is giving a 10% discount for orders using the discount code "camp."

T-shirts

The Brazos County LP has t-shirts remaining from the State Convention. The shirts promoting the LP of Texas come in royal blue or charcoal gray with white lettering. Sizes XL, XXL and some size XXXL are in stock. All shirts cost $15 and benefit the Brazos County Party.

To get yours contact Sherry Garland at sgarland123@aol.com.

Daily Texan Covers Badnarik

"Libertarians Challenge Bush," headlined an article on Michael Badnarik appearing in the August 25 Daily Texan. The UT paper quoted Patrick Dixon and Michael Badnarik.

The positive article lead: "Libertarian Presidential candidate and Austin native Michael Badnarik has been vigorously campaigning in crucial battleground states over the summer, plugging a strong message of a better future for the American people and a call to change in the November election."

In August Badnarik participated in a rally in New York City prior to the the Republican National Convention. He also participated in an August 31 debate with Green Party candidate David Cobb that was shown on C-SPAN September 6.
