Streamlined NatCom Sets to Work

The National Committee, streamlined down to almost half its former size by vote of the national convention, has taken immediate action to fulfill the widespread sentiment for more effective LP public relations by appointing Toni Nathan, first woman ever to win an electoral candidate vote, as LP candidate for vice president, to the full time job of media relations for the party.

Nathan, who will operate from her office in Eugene, Oregon, got off to a fast start with national press releases on the convention itself and on the drug war.

Her goals are to make good media contacts (a job she has performed superbly in all her party activity); to keep the libertarian point of view always before them; to let radio, TV, and newspaper interviewers know who they can depend on for good appearances or quotes; and to make Libertarian Party comments on an immediate-response basis.

The streamlined National Committee (NatCom), that appointed Nathan, who has been serving as Media Committee Chair, now consists of five at-large members instead of seven, and a maximum of ten regional representatives rather than twenty. The convention also ended the practice of having the past immediate Chair of the party serve as a member of the National Committee.

The NatCom also approved a crucial party document, the Program (as distinct from the Platform), which puts forth timely views on popular issues. The Program, printed in full draft in the July/August issue of the Libertarian Party News, was approved substantially as drafted. Its purpose is to be a working tool for party outreach, making party views clear on specific issues, and proposing practical, incremental solutions rather than insisting on ultimate ones.

Officers elected by the convention were Dave Walter, Chair; Mary Gingell, Vice-chair; Steven Fielder, Treasurer; and Joe Dehn, Secretary.

The Executive Committee of NatCom consists of all the officers and Bill Redpath, auditor of the party and Chair of the Libertarian Party of Virginia.

Nick Dunbar was reappointed as national director.

Committee chairs appointed by the National Committee are:

- * Finance: Steve Alexander
- * Affiliate Parties: Mary Gingell
- * Campaign '90: Steve Dasbach
- * Outreach: Toni Black
- * Media Relations: Gary Johnson
- * Legal Committee: Bill Hall

- * Internal Education: Norma Segal
 - * Advertising Development: Dave Nolan
 - * Assistant to the Chair: Don Ernsberger
- Publications Review Committee members are Ted Brown, Dean Ahmad, and Williamson Evers. Program Committee members (to keep the Program updated, with NatCom approval) are Steven Givot, Steve Dasbach, and Toni Nathan.

LP Supports Chinese Students

Representatives of the 3,000 member Philadelphia Area Chinese Students and Scholars Association were highly visible during the Libertarian Party national convention.

This group is part of the Chinese student organization in America which manned telephones, computers, and FAX machines during the recent events in China in an effort to send the truth back to friends and family, and counteract the Chinese government propaganda.

Duan-Quing Pei, the group's newsletter editor, asked the convention delegates to support the passage of U.S. House of Representatives Bill 2742, which if passed, would allow Chinese students currently in the U.S. to apply for a permanent visa, and would eliminate the present requirement that they return to China within two years after completing their studies. The convention delegates did vote to support the House Bill.

Pei was also presented a small Liberty Bell by the LP, as a symbol of the party's support, especially for the ultimate goal of replacing the current repressive Chinese regime with a democratically elected government.

The Chinese students manned a booth throughout the convention, selling T-shirts commemorating the Beijing Massacre and espousing support for "Democracy in China." Delegates clearly supported the students, as these shirts were the single most common attire for delegates and attendees.

Huangxin Wang, one of the students working the booth, said the Libertarian Party was giving wonderful support to the students.

In comparing the Chinese student group and the LP, Wang said, "We have similar ideas, except in America the government is not so big yet - while in China the government is already so big."

The Platform Debate: Short, Hot, Incomplete

Debate on the Libertarian Party platform produced heated exchanges in two plank areas: abortion and the Middle East.

Dozens of technical, usually grammatical, changes passed easily. Other plank proposals produced some discussion but little hard disagreement. They also did not produce any sharp differences with the past platform. Due to time limitations, many proposed plank revisions didn't make it to the floor, leaving the originals in the platform as they were.

The abortion issue was marked by a minority report of platform committee members who, quoting David Bergland's Libertarianism in One Lesson, wanted to change the plank to "Under no circumstances should government force anyone to subsidize another's abortion. Many libertarians hold that there should be no legal penalties for a woman who decides to terminate her pregnancy. Others hold that abortion does involve the violation of rights (of the fetus) and should be illegal."

The majority report on the plank was: "Those who wish to restrict the legal right to abortion gravely threaten individual liberty. A woman should have an unconditional legal right to terminate her pregnancy. We oppose all efforts to regulate or restrict that right."

Speaking for the minority report was Willy Marshall of Utah, one of the signers of the minority position. His point was short and clear: The minority proposal represents "sincere differences" among Libertarian Party members that should be recognized.

Bill Bradford, publisher of Liberty magazine, defended the the majority position forcefully and with practical emphasis. Surveys taken by his magazine, he said, show that only 10 percent of party members are opposed to abortion by choice. Further, he said, taking a firm pro-choice position should gain votes for the party. And, finally, he declared, freedom of choice is a Libertarian position.

With more people lined up at the microphones to speak on the plank than for any other platform item, the issue was left unvoted; thus, the existing platform plank, "recognizing" a woman's right to make a personal choice to terminate her pregnancy, remains in place.

Where the arguments on the abortion issue had been emotional but not overly bitter, the argument on the Middle East was both.

The majority plank, in this instance, was a straightforward call on the United States to cease all of its interventions in the Middle East.

The minority report was just as straightforward a call to not only cease intervention but specifically to repudiate Israel and the United States "special relationship" with that country. Peace can come in the Middle East, the proposed plank said, "only when a settlement is reached with the Palestinians regarding their confiscated properties, and this will not occur so long as the United States government continues to support the state of Israel."

Dr. Murray Rothbard vigorously denounced those who opposed the minority plank and, in particular, said he was "sick and tired" of charges that repudiation of Israel could be seen as anti-Semitic. I. Dean Ahmad, also speaking for the minority report, said that since he is a Semite, and also wanted to see Israel repudiated, the charges of anti-Semitism were groundless.

Even after the majority report was voted in-to acceptance, proponents of the minority position kept hammering sarcastically at their opponents by proposing that, in other planks dealing with United States intervention, the phrase "except in the case of Israel" be inserted.

1989 LP Convention Notes

Russell Means, Libertarian Indian activist, scheduled for a major speaking role at the Libertarian Party's national convention, was unavoidably prevented from attending because of a not unfamiliar activist problem: arrest. Means, attempting to make a citizen's arrest of a Bureau of Indian Affairs bureaucrat who had participated in what Means saw as a clearly illegal effort to oust elected officials of the Navajo nation, was himself arrested and was not released in time to attend the convention.

The total number of people attending the Libertarian Party's national convention was 522. There were 337 delegates registered; the highest number voting on any issue was 317. There were 178 people at the pre-convention roast of Karl Hess, sponsored by the Society of Individual Liberty. There were 340 at the final banquet in honor of Dr. Ron Paul. The presentation by Walter Williams and Charles Murray was the best attended event with more than 400 present.

Difficult Listening Christmas Special

by Michael Prescott

One of the most interesting, entertaining, artful, and philosophical sound extravaganzas you could ever hope to hear will be coming up soon: the "Difficult Listening Christmas Special." This will be the fourth offering of this annual event, and I certainly hope that there will be many more. The Difficult Listening show airs every Wednesday at midnight, on KUNV (the University of Nevada's radio station, which provides a rich diversity of various kinds of music, as well as many other first-rate entertainment and educational programs. For a free program guide, call the 24 hour request line at 739-3976, or the business number 739-3877 between 9 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Whenever the Difficult Listening show has the magic touch of its creators, Frank and George, it always shines as a unique artistic achievement of sound-montage, in the tradition of Dada and surrealism. But, because of being involved in other endeavors, Frank and George produce only some of the Difficult Listening shows these days; and, as of this time, there is no conformation as to what Wednesday in December will be the one to offer us the special Christmas show. It will probably be the Wednesday just before Christmas (December 20). But, just to be sure not to miss the special, you should tune in to KUNV, 91.5 FM, at midnight, every Wednesday in December. It will be worth it. Besides, the regular Difficult Listening shows are also something special -- especially when put together by Frank and George.

Confusion Over Petitions

by Michael Prescott

The Libertarian Party is currently engaged in efforts to reestablish ballot status, primarily by obtaining the required number of signatures on petitions. These petitions must be notarized to be valid. The Libertarian Party of Clark County now enjoys the services of a Notary Public. If you are one of those helping to get signatures for these petitions, and if you need help to get the petitions notarized, call 734-FREE for information.

Some confusion has been created because of another petition that was sent to many of you. This petition was circulated in order to try to create a new Libertarian Party in Clark County, independent of the legitimately elected officers of the existing Libertarian Party of Clark County. The Libertarian Party of Clark County does not condone the aims of this petition.

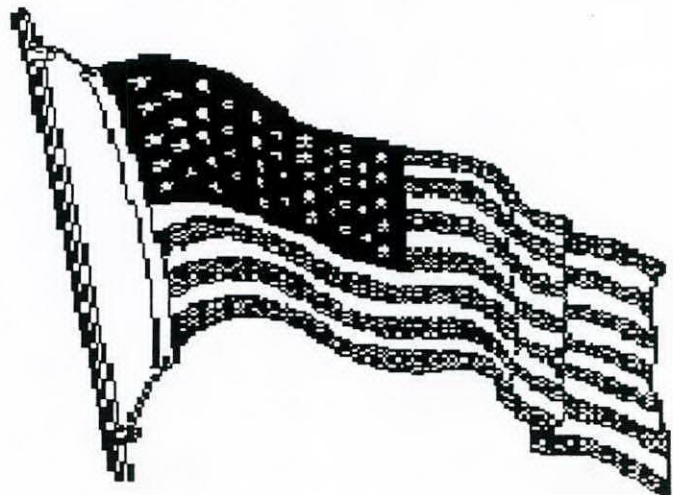

The Libertarian Party of Clark County is an organization in which all who want to participate in Libertarian projects are recognized as having the right to do so. Individuals also have a right to participate in the decision making process. Consequently, anyone who joins the LPCC Central Committee automatically has the right to speak for or against any proposal, in discussion and debate governed by parliamentary rules of fairness. The LPCC does not approve of the effort to change the LP into a virtual one man show, an old-style "party boss" set up in which one man at the top has all the decision making authority and control.

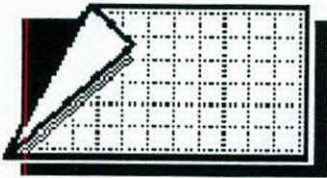

The LPCC realizes that this is the purpose of that particular petition, because that purpose has been explicitly spelled out during many sessions the LPCC has had with the man behind it. He failed, after many attempts, to get the LPCC to accept the increased authority of one man, to call that one man "President" instead of Chairman, and then to put himself into that authoritarian position. His latest tactic has been to ignore the fact that Al Western, Jr. is the legitimate elected head of the Libertarian Party in Clark County, and to set up another "Libertarian Party" with himself as head!

The Clark County Libertarian Central Committee is the legitimate leadership of the party in Clark County -- not only because it is legally recognized as such by the Clark County Election Department -- but, justly, because it is composed of elected officers and volunteer activists, conducting Libertarian business meetings in the fairness enjoined by "Robert's Rules of Order." Someone is now attempting to set himself up as the President of a made-to-order organization, one that disavows parliamentary rules of fairness and concentrates power in an authoritarian executive.

The LPCC does not dispute his right to form his own group and to call himself "President" or any other title that he wants -- but we do oppose his attempt to usurp the "Libertarian Party" name for his group.

Anyone who would like to help the Libertarian Party in any way, or find out further information, should contact the LPCC Chairman at 648-0808; the 1st Vice-chairman at 734-FREE; and/or the Judicial Committee Chairman at 369-5967.

To The Editor

Will the Libertarian Party be transformed into a powerful American political party? Will the Libertarian Party become strong and real?

You, with your little rag, have an opportunity to motivate the transformation. I hope that you will not let the opportunity slip by. It is the only chance you will have to help America.

The job will be done. If not by the Libertarian Party, then later by others.

- R. E. Kesterson
Intoxicology

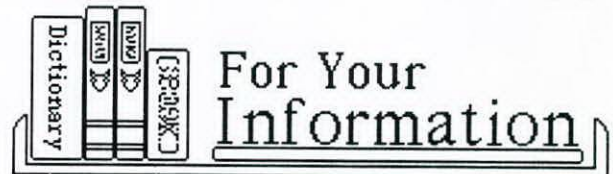

I received the latest issue of The Porcupine on Saturday, October 21st, which contained a letter to the editor purportedly written by you (Michael Emerling). Since I have been unable to obtain a copy, I must assume this to be true.

The letter implied that the Nevada Libertarian Party in its lobbying efforts:

1. Turned down volunteer help;
2. Were bungling, amateurish, or inept;
3. Never consulted Richard Winger and/or refused his help;
4. Would have been successful had the Nevada Libertarian Party allowed it to be conducted by the "lobbying experts" Michael Emerling and Andre Harrou.

We both know that these statements are not true. The Libertarian Party of Nevada and Richard Winger put a lot of time, effort, and money into the lobbying campaign and your statements are both demeaning and embarrassing. Since the Libertarian Party of Nevada, in this instance, was mostly James Frye and myself, with some help from the Libertarian Party of Carson City, I suggest that you apologize to all three, as well as the Libertarian Party of Nevada and Richard Winger.

... PARTY NOTES...

Thanks to Program Chairman Paula Miller for conducting a registration drive this month at the Boulevard, during American Education Week!

All those interested in developing our capacities in this field can call the party at 734-FREE.

We need full-time volunteer petitioners! We need YOU!

Students interested in libertarian studies and activism on or off campus contact Jeff May LP Membership Committee Chairman at 873-0318.

The Finance Committee is now reforming. Your participation is welcome. Call LP Member at Large Jim Lambert at 735-7471 or LPCC Vice-Chairman Julie Vorce at 459-1367.

Libertarian Social Club for all manner of humans and subhumans is now conceived: Call Nolan Kingston at 792-6559 to get involved. Also Carl Long's Potlatch Socials can be reached at 363-5998. Just tell 'em you're libertarian and you want be social, they'll understand.

Party growth is up another 25 this last month! Let's each equal that.

Help expand the party listing in the telephone book - it works! Send your donations marked "LP Phonebook listing" at the bottom. Mail to LPCC Treasurer Wayne Rudolph at Stay Healthy 850 S. Rancho, Las Vegas, NV 89106.

Want a free book about liberty? Call Wayne at 877-2494 and ask about the book "Turn the Clock Back Sam". You may also rent tapes for $1.00 each. Ask about the selection of subjects, you will find many titles.

Want to watch some videos of the convention on a big screen? Call the LPCC Chairman Al Western at 648-0808. We are setting up a date soon to view them as people have already expressed a desire.

To get a discount on books or subscriptions to libertarian oriented publications, call your LPN at 734-FREE and team up with other libertarians.

Dear Libertarian,

Included again in this month's newsletter is a membership form and a Ballot Access petition - YOUR PETITION.

Your party needs all the help it can get now that the Ballot Access Committee (a standing sub-committee of the national committee) is in transition due to the resignation of Director Paul Jacobs.

According to BAC Chairman Steve Givot, no state party's ballot access drive will be funded by BAC unless that state party has a high probability of retaining ballot status through the 1990 elections, let alone that that state's petition must also have a high probability of succeeding.

The LPN petition drive is nearly half completed (excluding margin of accuracy) early in the schedule, with approximately 4500 signatures in the process of notarization. Another 6000 signatures are needed.

Here is how you can help your party: You can get at least five valid signatures per month (that's if ALL of YOU do) on the petitions we send, and we might make it. You can become a dues paying member of the Nevada and/or National LP so that your $15 or more will enable funding for such projects. In addition, you can become a Deputy Field Voter Registrar to better facilitate the gathering of petition signatures.

Since only registered voters may sign petitions, we are in a trap - it seems that we must petition our adversaries for permission to campaign against them. We must ask registered voters, that is, those who have chosen to commit themselves to parties other than Libertarian (by having previously designated themselves as "Registered -- Democrat", or --Republican, or --NON-partisan) to sign our petition. Significantly, the eligible but unregistered voters, i.e. the non-voting majority that are eligible to vote if they choose to register (but are apparently not interested), are not eligible (authorized) to sign petitions, vote, serve on juries, or brag about it afterward. So the LP can't petition the people that are most likely to view neutrally an open ballot unless they register them to vote. And of course one can't solicit for a particular party while one is acting in the capacity of voter registrar, but both the petition and the LP philosophy are an incentive for everyone to register because peace, prosperity, and freedom have worldwide appeal. As long as the free choice of affiliation is stipulated by the registrar, he may register eligible voters making it more convenient for them to sign petitions.

In order to become a Deputy Field Voter Registrar, apply at the County Election Dept. 400 Las Vegas Blvd. So., 8-5 weekdays, phone Pat Lucas at 455-4055. Once you've filled out the application she will call you at a later date for an appointment to be instructed and sworn in/deputized, which takes about 10 min.

Remember: Every new member that you may find is a potential donor, activist, officer, candidate, petitioner, and possibly another registrar which multiplies our growth-source.

If the LP surpasses 10,500 (3%) attaining "minor" party status, no petition is needed to place LP candidates on the General ballot. If 38,400 (10%) register Libertarian then we will be considered "major" and LP candidates will be included in Primary ballots also. At that time the Demoblicans will try to change the figures again but we'll be strong enough to end their duopoly control of the ballot.

Whether or not the LP has candidates on the ballot depends on your helping complete this petition drive. The chance of winning elections notwithstanding, LP candidacies popularize freedom in a public forum and hold out the only periodic opportunities to vote for it.

The state's percentage requirements have defined the LP out of existence once again.

In the past the LP has retained ballot access in non-presidential election years by garnering enough votes after having gotten on the ballot by petition (3 times, thanks to Jim Burns and Dan Becan) and once by law-suit. For this reason I have requested a commitment (as has Dan) from BAC and have this last week received a rather unprepared but willing assent from Steve Givot via telephone.

Libertarians we are and will remain with or without candidates, ballot access/status, BAC, 51 in '92 PAC, or the LP National Committee. But without such help we are solely dependent on our own resources and that means you. So my fellow libertarians ask not what your party can do for you, but what you can do for your party!

The Libertarian Party Represents You!

WHAT IS THE LIBERTARIAN PARTY?

The Libertarian Party is your representative in American politics. It is the only political organization which respects you as a unique and competent individual.

America's Heritage

Libertarians believe in the American heritage of liberty, patriotism, and personal responsibility. Libertarians recognize the responsibility we all share to preserve this precious heritage for our children and grandchildren.

Free and Independent

Libertarians believe that being free and independent is a great way to live. We want a system which encourages all people to choose what they want from life; that lets them live, love, work, play, and dream their own way.

Caring for People

The Libertarian way is a caring, people-centered approach to politics. We believe each individual is unique. We want a system which respects the individual and encourages us to discover the best within ourselves and develop our full potential.

Principled and Consistent

The Libertarian way is a logically consistent approach to politics based on the moral principle of self-ownership. Each individual has the right to control his or her own body, action, speech, and property. Government's only role is to help individuals defend themselves from force and fraud.

Tolerant

The Libertarian Party is for all who don't want to push other people around and don't want to be pushed around themselves. "Live and let live" is the Libertarian way.

AMERICA'S THIRD LARGEST POLITICAL PARTY

The Libertarian Party is America's third largest and fastest growing political party. Libertarians engage in a variety of projects, working for everyone's liberty on every issue.

The Libertarian Party was created in December of 1971 by people who realized that the politicians had strayed from America's original libertarian foundation, with disastrous results. Their vision was the same as that of America's founders: a world where individuals are free to follow their own dreams in their own ways, a world of peace, harmony, opportunity, and abundance.

THE LIBERTARIAN OPTION

Consider the Libertarian option:

- Substantially reduce the size and intrusiveness of government and cut all taxes.
- Let peaceful, honest people offer their goods and services to willing consumers without a hassle from government.
- Let peaceful, honest people decide for themselves what to eat, drink, read, or smoke and how to dress, medicate themselves, or make love, without fear of criminal penalties.
- The U.S. government should defend Americans and their property in America and let the U.S. taxpayer off the hook for the defense bill of wealthy countries like Germany and Japan.

Libertarians are practical; we know we can't make the world perfect. But, it can be better. Libertarians will keep working to create a better, freer society for everyone. As William Allen White said: "Liberty is the only thing you cannot have unless you are willing to give it to others."

WHY NOT STICK WITH THE ESTABLISHMENT?

The politicians in Washington and in our state capitals have led us away from the principles of individual liberty and personal responsibility which are the only sound foundation for a just, humane, and abundant society.
