Dear Hope:

Enclosed is some material on the Free Libertarian Party, a new political party organized nationally in January and locally in April.

As I mentioned on the phone, one interesting facet of the Party is the range of people it attracts. A typical "mix" is a construction worker, a hippy-looking anarchist, an advertising executive, and a woman who decided it was more important to join FLP than a women's lib group. The noted economist, Dr. Murray Rothbard (who I understand appeared on MIDDAY about a year ago), is on our board of advisors.

These diverse people are working together to achieve their mutual goal, freedom. The only requirement for membership in FLP is stated in our membership application: "I hereby certify that I do not believe in or advocate the initiation of force as a means of achieving political or social goals."

If there is any interest in doing a show on this subject, please call me at 988-7814.

It was good to talk to you. Hope to hear from you soon.

As ever,

Andrea
