

Rules of the Libertarian Party of Texas

I. STATEMENT OF PRINCIPLES

We, the members of the Libertarian Party, defend the rights of the individual, and challenge the myth that the state should be omnipotent.

We hold that all individuals have the right to exercise sole dominion over their own lives, and to live in whatever manner they choose, as long as they do not forcibly interfere with the equal rights of others. Governments throughout history have regularly operated on the opposite principle, that the State has the right to dispose of the lives of individuals and the fruits of their labor.

We, on the contrary, deny the right of any government to do these things. Where governments exist, they must not violate the rights of any individual: namely,

(1) the right to life - accordingly we support prohibition of the initiation of physical force against others;

(2) the right to liberty of speech and action - accordingly we oppose all attempts by government to abridge the freedom of speech and press, as well as government censorship in any form; and

(3) the right to property - accordingly we oppose all government interference with private property, such as confiscation, nationalization, and eminent domain, and support the prohibition of robbery, trespass, fraud, and misrepresentation.

Since governments, when instituted, must not violate individual rights, we oppose all interference by government in the areas of voluntary and contractual relations among individuals. People should not be forced to sacrifice their lives and property for the benefit of others. They should be left free by government to deal with one another as free traders; and the resultant economic system, the only one compatible with the protection of individual rights, is the free market.
