Again, for the record, I object to the Caryn Ann Harlos being BCC'd on a state party dispute that she has no claim to weigh in on. And I would ask that the Judicial Committee stop Blind Carbon Copying people who are not primary stakeholders of this dispute. I would like to formally complain about the JC process that Dr. Ruwart has taken in allowing Caryn Ann to be included. I believe this body has far overstepped its role in our state and continue to violate our state party's sovereignty by forcing us to receive Harlos' interjections.

Do better as a Judicial Committee to not interject your personal biases as to what is acceptable into our state. We are free people with freedom of association. Our State Convention delegates have now at our state convention voted not to allow these people back in to the party as a whole group. If you deny the delegates of our state to self determinate you continue to violate Libertarian principles of limited governance.

Ms. Harlos is involved in the dispute since she is working with the appellant; consequently, she will be getting these documents anyway as Mr. Cordio distributes them to his interested parties.

All LP members, regardless of their state affiliation, have a right to request and obtain all of the documents involved in any JC dispute. Since this appeal involves the LNC as a respondent, the entire LP membership has a stake, since they will be choosing which LNC members to reinstate in Reno. Accordingly, as in our other earlier cases, the JC has given access to any LP member who asks for it. As I mentioned in an earlier e-mail to you, we had around 40 amicus briefs from members in one case. You should be aware that any LP member who wishes it can attend the hearing or listen to the recording.

Clearly, you haven't paid attention to earlier cases, or the strife that will continue if your group and the appellant can't come to a resolution on your own. You might recall that you requested that the JC postpone our hearing to give you an opportunity for such a resolution. I hope you've taken advantage of that delay by making progress towards that end. My only "personal bias" is to hope that both parties can come to some sort of resolution rather than experience months, or even years, of strife fighting each other instead of the state.

If you would like to stop this level of transparency for future appeals, you can present a bylaw revision to the Reno convention prohibiting the distribution of JC documents to the LP's members and limit it only to interested parties. Although I am for transparency, it would certainly make the job of the JC chair much easier not to have it. 😊

It's not transparency. It's intrusion. People can receive information the same way the rest of the general public receives information. Putting someone who has been thrown off the LNC for excessive harassment of others into the solution oriented conversation of a state that has nothing to do with her voting status is reckless and honestly, a major overstep of this committee. Furthermore, bcc'ing members make you the one who is appearing not to be transparent.

There is a new state committee for LAMA that was elected by the body. Should we assume that they will be the ones that will be expected represent LAMA at the JC hearing?

If you don't like the general membership to get the appeals and associated documents, you need to take it up with the bylaws committee in Reno.
