APRIL 1996

Firearms Rally, LPC Convention Highlight April

by David Aitken & Richard G. Combs

Spring is finally here, and, admit it, you've been practically hibernating (at least in terms of political activity) all winter. Now it's time to get out and do something!

Fortunately for you, April offers two great events to help you shake off the winter blahs. With a little luck, the first will also give you a chance to bask in our warm spring sun while you listen to and cheer pro-freedom speakers, wave signs, browse literature tables, and converse with other activists for liberty.

On Sunday, April 21, the Liberty Alliance is holding its annual Right to Bear Arms Rally at the State Capitol in Denver from 2:00 to 4:00 p.m. The rally commemorates the April 19 anniversary of the battles of Concord and Lexington, when American patriots fought the British to prevent the seizure of their "state-of-the-art assault weapons."

KNUS-AM710 talk show host Marty Nalitz will MC, with Independence Institute's David Kopel, several state legislators, and candidates for the legislature and Congress (both Libertarians and those from some other party) expected to speak.

The Liberty Alliance is a coalition of freedom-oriented groups working together on common issues, especially gun owners' rights. Member organizations include the Libertarian Party, Firearms Coalition of Colorado, Riders for Justice, and TABOR Committee. Past rallies have attracted in the thousands.

Then, at the end of the month, it's convention time! The Libertarian Party of Colorado's annual state convention will be held April 26-28 at the Coach House Resort of Loveland (see page 5 for details).

Friday evening and Saturday will be devoted to an exceptional collection of speakers, including L. Neil Smith (science fiction writer and long-time libertarian), Rick Tompkins (presidential candidate), Jo Jorgensen (vice-presidential candidate), Michael Cloud (for Harry Browne, presidential candidate), Irwin Schiff (presidential candidate on video), and Matt Motchkavitz (motivational speaker).

On Sunday we get down to the business of running our party. Of major concern is the election of a new board of directors.

At past Right to Bear Arms rallies, the Libertarian Party table has attracted large crowds.

Earn $1000 in November – Adopt a Precinct Now!

For a $10 fee, you can adopt any election precinct in Colorado. Spend the next seven months making it a stronghold of Libertarianism. If your precinct produces the highest vote total for the Libertarian Party Presidential ticket, you'll earn a cool $1000!

Don't delay—adoptions are on a first-come, first-serve basis. Check our March issue for the full story, or just fill out the adoption application on page 4. Adopt your precinct today, and start distributing brochures on the next warm weekend!

To the Editor:

I share Roger Colucci's disappointment that presidential candidates Harry Browne and Irwin Schiff will be unable to attend our state convention. As a member of the Browne campaign team, I'd like nothing better than to have all three active candidates—Browne, Schiff, and Tompkins—appear together before every state LP convention in the nation.

Unfortunately, it simply isn't possible. Four other states—Alabama, New York, Ohio, and Washington—have conventions the same weekend as ours. Certainly, no one can be at all five. I'm not privy to the plans of Schiff and Tompkins. In fact, I don't even know the details of Harry Browne's schedule, but I believe he will be attending two state conventions that weekend and sending representatives to the other three.

I suspect our fortune in landing Rick Tompkins results from our nearness to his Arizona home base and the fact that he hasn't campaigned here before. Harry Browne has campaigned in Colorado three times in the past year: last year's state convention, an August trip to Aspen, and two days in Boulder prior to CityVote. He has already campaigned in Colorado more than any past Libertarian presidential candidate, and is scheduled to return here again in September.

In addition, Harry Browne's aggressive schedule of 3-4 daily radio and TV appearances is giving Coloradans repeated opportunities to hear his message: locally with KOA's Mike Rosen and Rick Barber, Marty Nalitz on KNUS (Denver), and Bob Moore on KKPC (Pueblo); a host of nationally syndicated shows, including Michael Reagan, Oliver North, Art Bell, and Ken Hamblin; and many TV appearances on CNBC, National Empowerment Television, CNN-FN, C-SPAN, etc. Keep watching and listening; after the primaries, the Harry Browne media campaign is going to shift into high gear!

As for Mr. Colucci's concern about financial motives: as a staunch capitalist, I wish it were possible to profit from running for President (without taking federal funds, like Lenora Fulani). The truth is that all our candidates are making great personal and financial sacrifices to work for the ideas in which they believe, and all deserve our respect, admiration, and gratitude.

I encourage Mr. Colucci (and anyone who shares his concerns) to speak with me about them at our state convention, and I look forward to seeing you all there.

Denver County

Attendees at Denver's March meeting were treated to RTD Director Dan Gallegos' many tales and insights about his experiences in Colorado's third-largest government. In addition, RTD candidate David Aitken described his plan for the campaign, which centers on his expertise with budgeting for large organizations ($100 million plus). He will propose initial budget cuts of 15-20%, to be accompanied by a cut in the tax rate from 0.6% to 0.5%.

The Denver cocktail party was quite successful, as a baker's dozen people gathered at the home of David Aitken to relax and get to know old friends and new ones. Three attendees were not party members, but had been invited to "meet a few other libertarians." Conversations revolved around everything except politics until late, and the subject was brought up by the guests. One requested more information; the other two stayed for two more hours to learn more about libertarian philosophy.

Southwestern Colorado

Bill Zimsky and Brad Elder are working hard to promote the Libertarian Party in the Durango area. To publicize a recent organizational meeting of the La Plata County Libertarian Party, they turned to the Durango Herald. Zimsky, an attorney, and Elder, a developer, were interviewed by the paper, resulting in a lengthy page 1 story in its February 20 issue. The clipping was featured in the March issue of the national LP's Liberty Pledge Newsletter.

If you live in the Durango/Four Corners area, call Bill Zimsky at 970-385-5107 or write to PO Box 3005, Durango, CO 81302. It's time to get involved!

Western Colorado

Brent Shroyer of Rangely is going to get things moving again in the western and northwestern reaches of the state, after the departure from Colorado of both Dann Hayes and Dale Doelling, long-time Grand Junction activists. If you want to help, or just get together and talk with fellow Libertarians, call Brent at 970-675-2337 or write him at PO Box 292, Rangely, CO 81648.

The members of the current board (listed in the Directory on page 7) deserve a round of applause for their dedication and hard work. Several positions must be filled, including Chairman, Publications (Colorado Liberty publisher), Legislative, and Public Information (news releases, media relations).

We'll also select 23 delegates (and up to 50 alternates, should enough people want to go) to the National Convention, taking place July 3-7 in Washington, D.C. Delegates and alternates must be party members and signatories of the non-aggression principle or pledge. See the membership form on page 8.

There are no proposed changes to our constitution and bylaws. However, any member can make a proposal from the floor.

The only item of business for the platform is to reaffirm the two planks that were lost and have since been found. They deal with water rights and the safety clause.

Your interest and participation are important to our future. Please attend and help us make decisions about our direction.

The candidates included here are actively campaigning for the Libertarian Party nomination. They are listed alphabetically.

Operation Welcome Home

One of our most effective outreach methods consists of having people at a fair or other event take the World's Smallest Political Quiz (Nolan Chart Quiz) and plotting their scores. Those who score in the libertarian quadrant can be offered more information, invited to a meeting, etc. The Advocates for Self-Government have been promoting this activity for some time under the name "Operation Politically Homeless," and they offer attractive kits for setting up at a booth or table. Call them at 800-932-1776 for more information.

Now the Advocates have improved and expanded their program with Operation Welcome Home, and the LPC is participating. Send your prospect names to the state party and we'll give them a free 3-month subscription to the Colorado Liberty. Plus, for those that want information from other freedom oriented groups, we'll send those names to the Advocates, who will distribute them to organizations like Reason, Cato, and Laissez-Faire Books. That means these new-found libertarians will receive several different perspectives on the libertarian movement and have several ways to get involved.

When getting people's names and addresses, give them a way to indicate that they don't want their name shared with other pro-freedom groups; in that case, we'll send their names to the national LP, but not to the Advocates.

Kudos to...

Bette Rose Smith, who testified again at the state capitol against a bill to license opticians. She was successful in convincing the house committee to kill it. One person CAN make a difference!

Leah Cadore, whose letter in the Colorado Springs Gazette Telegraph asked that paper why it has not reported on Harry Browne's campaign. She gave an excellent short description of the LP, its growth and ballot status, and its distinction as having a "clearly defined political philosophy from which one can determine its stand on any political issue." Great job, Leah!

Doug Newman, whose letter in the Denver Post pointed out that neither the Republicans nor the Democrats vote for what they say they believe in and recommended the Libertarian alternative. Thanks, Doug!

Cy Smaling, for not hesitating when opportunity presented itself. He was making some phone calls to track down election information. The person at the Arapahoe County Election Commission asked if he'd called about becoming an election judge. He replied that he'd called about something else, but would be glad to volunteer—and now he's scheduled to work as a judge on both election days. Congratulations, Cy, you're one of the first (if not the first) Libertarians to break the two-party monopoly on working elections.

If your area (or campus) doesn't have a local contact and you'd consider being one, please contact Affiliates Director Sandra Johnson. Note that a local area can be anything that makes sense. It does not have to be a county.

I hereby certify that I do not believe in or advocate the initiation of force as a means of achieving political or social goals.

What does the above pledge mean? We ask our members to disavow the initiation of force. This does not mean that you cannot defend yourself; you do have a right to defend your life, liberty, and property. It means that you cannot use the coercive power of government to forcibly achieve your personal, ethical, or religious goals. This commitment helps us maintain our principles and provides us with a measuring stick to determine if we have strayed from our common goal: a society where all relationships among persons are based on voluntary cooperation.
